Dear Mrs. Barton:

The Departments of English of the different Colleges within the University have considered your very generous offer of $100 annually for fifteen years for a prize poem to be called the Jardine Memorial Prize in memory of your brother and they cordially approve of the accepting of your offer.

In connection therewith they have submitted to me the recommendations for its award which I now enclose.

Allow me again to express to you our high appreciation of your gift ? As soon as I hear from you I will take steps to make an announcement about it to the Board of Governors.

Yours sincerely,

President.
